WELCOME MESSAGE

What happens when oil arrives? What industries get created when telecommunications improve? What conservation efforts must be in place? These are existential questions for the Falkland Islands, which sits on the precipice of great change.

FUTURE OF FALKLANDS INDUSTRY

The Falkland Islands is poised to become an oil economy, the result of the forthcoming Sea Lion Island project that will sustain for the next 30-40 years, pumping billions into the economy. This massive economic shock will be commensurate with the improvement to telecommunications and opening up the economy to whole new industries previously impossible to operate in this part of the world.

Becoming a part of the most important global commodity market while improving the telecommunications sector means the Falkland Islands will have to prioritize its environment, and conservation efforts, in a manner it has yet to fully grasp.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT FORUM 2026

Building on the inaugural Economic Development Forum, which focused on traditional industries of agriculture (wool), maritime, and tourism, the second Economic Development Forum will look to future industries to come for the Falkland Islands.

FIDC will see the second Economic Development Forum bring together a group of experts to workshop alongside the entire Falkland Islands public and private sectors, and consider what the future holds for the Falkland Islands and the industries of oil / hydrocarbons, telecommunications, and environmental conservation / sustainability.

ABOUT FALKLAND ISLANDS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Representing the interests of our business community to drive development of the Falkland Islands economy and growing private sector.

We act as a balance to Governmental departments and policies, expressing views and opinions that would otherwise not be heard, in order to ensure that our private sector can continue to flourish.

Since its formation in May 1993 the Falkland Islands Chamber of Commerce has been passionate about ensuring Falkland Islands businesses have a voice within the local and worldwide business community. Areas where the Chamber has had an impact include:

1. Joint working with the Falkland Islands Government on updating the revised 2017 Economic Development Strategy which was due to expire in 2025
2. Creation and operation of the DHL courier service.
3. The Banking review and subsequent consequences.
4. Code of practice for procurement by the oil industry, and improvements to FIG procurement policy

In supporting the Economic Development Forum as main sponsor, the Chamber of Commerce looks forward to encouraging open dialogue around new and developing areas of activity and to seeing increased connections between the Falkland Islands and international partners.

Whether you have an established business, a newly started enterprise in the Falklands, or are seeking to do business here, let us assist you in meeting the right people and obtaining the information you need to develop your business into the future.

We listen to our members on issues which affect their business and take action. We want you to have a voice.

WHY A FORUM?

FIDC works with the Falkland Islands Government (FIG), the business sector, and other partners to promote sustainable and diversified economic growth. It does this by (1) horizon scanning and robust analysis of the business climate and new opportunities, (2) initiating major economic developments that benefit the Falkland Islands, and (3) helping new and smaller businesses to develop and grow.

FIDC is mandated to host an open economic development forum in conjunction with the various other business associations – i.e., Chamber of Commerce and Rural Business Association – and relevant FIG directorates to discuss economic themes and initiatives that would be both “forward thinking” and relevant to the Falkland Islands.

PROPOSED SPEAKERS

KATHY SMITH

President of the Georgetown Chamber of Commerce and Industry

Mrs. Kathy Smith is the first woman President Georgetown Chamber of Commerce and Industry (GCCCI). She previously served as the Senior Vice President, Secretary, and she was the Chairperson of the Chamber's Petroleum Committee as well as the Human Resource Management and Capacity Building Committee. Mrs. Smith is the Managing Director of Dynotech Construction Chemicals.

In 2015 ExxonMobil discovered oil reserves potentially worth more than $100bn (£80bn) – a find big enough to economically transform the South American country of fewer than one (1) million people. Since then, Guyana has emerged as a significant contributor to growth in the global supply of crude oil, making it the third-fastest growing non-OPEC producing country. In 2022, Guyana's GDP grew by 62 percent (%), the highest real GDP growth in the world that year.

Mrs Smith will be able to offer insights into the rapid transformation of her country's economy and the lessons that the Falklands can learn in anticipation of the development of the Sea Lion project.

PROPOSED SPEAKERS

GENÈVE PHILLIP-DURHAM

Principal Consultant of R.E.A.C.H. Global Consulting

Dr. Genève Phillip-Durham is a political scientist, policy consultant, and academic leader specialising in governance, institutional capacity-building, and sustainable development in small island contexts. She holds a BSc in Public Sector Management, a Postgraduate Diploma in International Relations, an MSc in Global Studies, and a PhD in International Relations.

With more than 15 years of experience across Caribbean and international policy spaces, she has held senior academic, administrative, and advisory roles in the public, private, and multilateral sectors. She is Principal Consultant of R.E.A.C.H. Global Consulting, advising on policy, governance, institutional strengthening, and development strategy.

Dr. Phillip-Durham has served as Dean of Humanities and Social Sciences at the University College of the Cayman Islands, Dean of Academics at the University of St. Martin, and Lecturer in International Relations at the University of the West Indies. She has also consulted for organisations including UN Women, the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP), and the Inter-American Development Bank (IDB).

A recognised voice in Caribbean public policy and island studies, she serves as Associate Editor of the Island Studies Journal and Deputy Editor-in-Chief of the Journal of Island and Marine Studies, and has published widely on governance, climate resilience, economic diversification, artificial intelligence, and development pathways for small island developing states.

PROPOSED SPEAKERS

TARG PATIENCE

Chair of the Gibraltar Association for New Technologies

Targ Patience is the current Chair of the Gibraltar Association for New Technologies (GANT), which aims to foster cooperation between members of the association, and stimulate the interest and participation of the new technology industries, including Gibraltar's blockchain, financial technologies (fintech), and distributed ledger technologies.

Mr Patience currently sits on the Gibraltar Financial Services Resolution and Compensation Committee (FSRCC).

Additionally, he is a regulatory specialist and expert, having previously led a compliance and regulatory consultancy company in London focused on assisting financial institutions.

Mr. Patience is expert on how technological advances play transformational roles for societies, especially U.K. Overseas Territories.
